

Rick Goes In For Surgery

Thursday, 19 March 2009

Rick went into surgery today, Thursday March 19, 2009 at the VA Hospital in Oklahoma City. I've consolidated all the surgical updates into their own menu item on the right side. If you'd like to review his condition after the walk, his battle with the chemo/radiation treatments and the challenges he faced during surgery, please click on that link and read his thoughts up to surgery, and then my updates while he was in the hospital.
